Class Poem of 1952

Whatever is worth doing at all
   Is worth doing well
Whether this is heeded throughout life,
   Only we ourselves can tell.

The way is long; the road is rough.
   There'll no doubt be many tears.
And yet—there'll be the smiles too
   To help us through the years.

We've often shirked our duty,
   (And history will repeat).
But all in all we'll try out best,
   With each challenge that we meet.

We'll always have our memories,
   Of our carefree high school days,
When Mom and Dad were always there,
   To encourage and to praise.

But soon we'll all be on our own,
   And scattered near and far,
Taking one step at a time
   Always reaching for our star.

Many stars will ne'er be reached,
   All cannot succeed.
But as we travel life's highway,
   We'll try to follow our creed.

For there's no satisfaction
   In work that's just half done.
So if there comes a chance to lead,
   We'll try to be the one.

by--Evelyn Beach
LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT
of SENIOR CLASS

We, the Senior Class of White Pigeon High School, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be our Last Will and Testament, hereby revoking all former wills by us in the past.

I, Theodore Cholamtes, leave to Jerry McGowan my technique of telling honest lies and laughing at my own jokes.

I, Joan Tavernier, leave to Betty Rentfrow my ability to ride in red convertibles.

I, Donald Cast, leave to Arthur Greene my ability to sleep undisturbed in school.

I, Margaret Gaden, leave to Fern Strawser my ability to twirl a baton and lead the W. P. H. S. Band.

I, Dean Schulthies, leave to Dan Schulthies, my ability to catch women early in life.

I, Bertha Kramer, leave to Dick Carper, my capability of receiving good grades.

I, Erskie Ross, leave to John Coxeter and Jack Todd my 'power' of obtaining a car load of girls every noon to take for a ride. Girls Beware!!!!!!!

I, Marilyn Rentfrow, leave to Kay Shoemaker the responsibility of putting out an annual.

I, Arthur Clutter, leave to Jack Todd my ambition to graduate and hope it doesn't take him as long.

I, Marjorie Ferguson, leave to Sherrill Heminger my dramatic accomplishments for her future plays.

I, Robert Gage, leave the mimeograph to anyone who wants to work for the school paper.

I, Evelyn Beach, leave to John Coxeter my secret formula on how to grow big and strong.

I, Charles Rudlof, leave to Arthur Greene my ability that keeps me from being cornered by girls.

I, Pat Tavernier, leave to Loyce Gilreath my ability to control my temper.

I, Virgil McFall, leave to the boys of the junior class my ability to drive safely.

We, Marjorie Ferguson and Pat Tavernier, leave to Janet Roberts our art of giggling.

I, Pat Tavernier, leave to Janice Ott my crepe soled shoes so she may sneak in the house without waking her parents when coming in from those late hours.

I, Ted Krull, pass down to Roger King the job of manager for the annual.

We, the senior class, suggest to the town of Mundon to move closer to White Pigeon so Ann Harvey will be able to see more of a certain fellow.
CLASS PROPHECY OF 1952

Beginning my prophetic journey I find myself in the city of New York in 1970. I have just started my first extended vacation since taking over the duties of head nurse at Bellevue Hospital here in the city.

Naturally needing a new wardrobe I decided to go shopping. I entered Saks Fifth Avenue store and asked to be shown to the ready-to-wear department. Reclining in a chair as I was watching the mannequins model the clothes, I suddenly find that one mannequin looks vaguely familiar. Asking to look more closely at the dress she was modeling I inquired as to her name. To my surprise I found she was Margaret Gadson, a former classmate of mine. I invited her to lunch with me so we could talk over old times. As we were enjoying our lunch we proceeded to discuss our former classmates.

She said she had recently been on Michigan State Campus and had noticed a man carrying a large briefcase and with a familiar walk racing across campus. I inquired whom she had seen and she related it had been Robert Gage. She said he was now a bachelor professor at the college but still enjoyed flirting with the coeds. Talking to him she found that Arthur Lee Clutter and Bob were co-partners in A Bureau of Correspondence for the Lovelorn. You remember Arthur’s problem solving mind back in high school.

We continued to reminisce of our former classmates. I asked her if she had heard the new singer, Teddy Martin, on the radio? She replied that she had. Much to her surprise I told her it was really Ted Cholometes, the guy with a voice from our class. It seems he was a member of the Navy until discovered by Arthur Godfrey’s Talent Scouts and was rapidly becoming another Johnny Ray.

Continuing our conversation she told me Virgil McFall had decided he liked school better than he thought and was now Superintendent of White Pigeon High School. She also revealed that Mr. Henschett had retired from school to his farm near Coopersville and now spent his time entertaining his grandchildren.

We found that Pat Tavernier was married to a navy officer and with her three children was traveling over the world. Also that Joan Tavernier had married and settled down near the city of Mottville and spent her time commanding the chauffers of her fleet of 20 Buicks.

Evelyn Beach, I found, was giving up her careers as head nurse at St. Luke’s Hospital in Chicago to marry the chief surgeon of the hospital.

We discovered the cream we were using for our coffee was from that most famous dairy of Michigan owned and operated by Enos Foss with the help of his wife and children.

Conversing further we found that Charles Rudloff had married and settled down on a farm near Middletury with his wife and five children Charles has invented a device to grow corn without even planting it in the ground. You remember how ambitious Charles was in high school.

She remembered that Don Cast had become another famous "Digger O’Dell" in the city of Sturgis and had a booming but not very lively business.

I told her I had read an interview of Ted Krull's that had appeared in the paper. He is now coaching the Los Angeles Rams Football team but was formerly one of the greatest stars they ever had.

We discovered that Margie Ferguson after all her traveling and studying in colleges all over the world has settled down as a private secretary to the Secretary-General of the United Nations. Remember, Mr. Dury said this would be a good position to obtain.

She said Dean Schulthies and his wife were running the largest and most prosperous dry-cleaning business in St. Joseph County.

Then we found that Bertha Kremer was the most scientifically advanced of all. It seems she spends her time traveling back and forth between the earth and Mars in a rocketship invented by her husband and financed by her.

We discovered time was growing short and decided to depart, promising that we would lunch more often.

The ones not returning to school as sophomores on September fifth, in 1949, were La Vaughn Auker, Archie Carper, Doris Easterday, Arthur Green, Doreen Leeth and Helen Pearson. Robert Niece was the only new comer to our class but he left during the year.

As we drew still nearer to the end of our school days, we became Juniors. On September fourth, in 1950, Mr. Dury counted noses this time. Dorothy Leonard had moved and was not in our class. There were no new numbers. During the year Jack Skoels, Vonnie Leeth, and John Saunders left.

Then on September fourth, in 1951, some eager and some not all the new seniors managed to get to school on time. We found that our class had not dwindled since last spring. Mr. Renschott took our enrollment and the following were present: Evelyn Beach, Don Cast, Ted Cholometes, Arthur Clutter, Doris Easterday, Margie Ferguson, Enos Foss, Margaret Gadsden, Robert Gage, June Holm, Bertha Kremer, Ted Krull, Charles Linihan, Virgil McFall, Marilyn Rentfrow, Charles Rudloff, Dean Schulthies, Rosemary Shultz, Jean Tavernier, and Fat Tavernier. Then during the early part of the year Rosemary Shultz, Doris Easterday, and June Holm left our class. So having started out in the kindergarten with 23 members and having a few come in and more dropping out, our class now has 16 members who will be the graduates of 1952.

We, Ted Krull, Ted Cholometes, Charles Rudloff, Virgil McFall, Don Cast, and Robert Gage, leave our skill of playing football to the players of the coming year so that White Pigeon may keep the Tomahawk.

We, the Senior Class, give and bequeath unto the Junior Class our desks in the back of the study hall and all our just debts.

We, the Senior Class, give to each teacher a bottle of "Tintair" to get rid of any gray hairs that we may have caused in our 13 years of school.
1952 CLASS HISTORY

On September 5th in the year 1939, twenty-three little brains were set to work. Then the kindergarten teacher, Miss Naomi Mast, set about trying to find our the names of her class she found the following: Joyce Bowen, Theodore Cholometes, Doris Easterday, Margaret Gadson, Donald Garver, Arthur Green, Claude Hawkins, June Holm, Bertha Kramer, Virgil McFall, Mary Max, Charles Linihan, La Verne Pridgeon, Marjorie Rodrick, Charles Rudloff, John Schrock, Jack Skeels, Pat Tavernier, and Barbara Yunker.

Latecomers to the class were: Ted Krull, Dora Bollaire, Marvin Reed and J. R. Hartman. During the year June Holm, Mary Max, Claude Hawkins and J. R. Hartman left us. As we left our kindergarten there were only nineteen in our class.

Our teachers from the first grade through the sixth grade were: first grade—Miss Mankinen; second grade—Miss Zeluff, third grade—Mrs. Allen; fourth grade—Mrs. Girton; Our fifth grade class was divided, some were in Mrs. Girton's room and some were in Miss Ohls' room; sixth grade—Miss Ohls.

By the time we left the sixth grade we all thought we were pretty grown up, we thought that beginning with seventh grade we would be high school students. We soon found out that everyone considered us as mere Junior High kids. There were thirty-one starting in the seventh grade. They were: Noble Anglmyer, Evelyn Beach, Donald Cast, Theodore Cholometes, Doris Easterday, Enos Foss, Margaret Gadson, Robert Gage, Donald Goings, Arthur Green, Marvin Hawthorne, Ann Hibbard, June Holm, Earnestine Jacobs, Bertha Kramer, Ted Krull, Irene Leeth, Vonnie Leeth, Charles Linihan, Virgil McFall, LuAnn Neice, Douglas Peters, Marilyn Rentfrow, Wallace Reynolds, Dorl Rideneour, Robert Rupert, and Pat Tavernier. Those who came into the class later on were: Richard Hummel, Allen Wrigglesworth, La Vaughn Auker, and Olive Lemon. Those who left during this year were: Dorl Rideneour, Robert Rupert, Earnestine Jacobs, and Allen Wrigglesworth. There were thirty-one leaving the seventh grade at the end of the year. Mrs. Hancock was our class sponsor.

On September first in 1947, when Mr. Morrison took roll call he found the following were new to our 8th grade class: Archie Carper, Marjorie Ferguson, Helen Pierson, and Jack Skeels.

Noble Anglmyer, Ann Hibbard, Marvin Hawthorne, and Wallace Reynolds, did not return from the seventh grade.

On September sixth in 1948, the new freshman class was directed to the home Ec. room as Miss Schmidt was our sponsor. As Miss Schmidt looked over the faces of her freshman class she found that Donald Goings, Douglas Peters, Dorl Rideneour, and Floyd Summey had not returned to school. Manuel Munoz was the only new face in our class but he left soon after school started.

Having survived all the ordeals of our freshman year we left with the thoughts of returning as sophomores and only three more years of school.
