And Therefore We Dedicate

In his 23 years of teaching, Carl J. Siberry has run the educational gamut from accounting and industrial arts, to driver’s education and substitute bus driver. He is now serving the system as Athletic Director, Junior High counselor and 7th grade exploratory teacher. "Si" has also been class sponsor for many years.

His sense of dedication and purpose extend far beyond the class room to his duties as member and past president of Rotary.

It is for his philosophy of dedication to young people in our community that we are honored to dedicate our 1976 yearbook in his behalf.

TAM WATSON - I will the job of Yearbook Editor to any Junior who needs a full time job and to Jody Tackett, I will my brown tennie-shoes, which have been redesigned by Keilow!
VALEDICTORY SPEECHES 1976

John Kosti

To the class of 1976, high school faculty, parents, and guests:

Thinking back on my time at White Pineen High School, I can say that I enjoyed it here. I had a pretty good time at the school and I'd like to thank my fellow students and my teachers and everyone else involved with the school for making this possible.

There were times when the schoolwork got me down and I felt a little tired of it all, but in the long run it was worth continuing. If you don't have that high school diploma, making a decent living becomes more difficult. You can always take the easy way out and quit, but chances are you'll regret it later. And often still, high school only comes around once.

I feel that the education I received here was satisfactory and that I have been given adequate preparation for my continued education in college. I don't have any real complaints about my schooling here and I am satisfied with the level of teaching I received.

My goal in college is to try to do a reasonably good job and try to do what I can in my studies. And whether I'm near the top of the class or not doesn't matter as long as I did what was in my power to do, and as long as my performance can be considered reasonably good and acceptable. And I believe that more than this cannot really be asked of anyone.

Concerning the members of my class graduating tonight, I feel that every one of them deserves respect for the fact that he did the job required of him and that he didn't quit.

As everyone knows, my graduating class is in the unique position of being the class of 1976, the class of the Bicentennial year of our nation's independence. One of the most popular slogans associated with the Bicentennial is the "Spirit of '76." It is this spirit, this desire to work for improving the way things are and for giving everyone a fair share, that has made this country. And it is this spirit that we must have today, if our lives and our country are to end up on good ground. So in closing, it is my hope that everyone will have at least a little of this "Spirit of '76."

John Kosti, Co-Valedictorian 1976

Dave Griston

Doctor Royce, Mr. Ward, school board members, teachers, friends and relatives:

We, the graduating seniors, have traveled the long road of education together. Now the time has come for each of us to go our own separate ways and we do so with a common bond, our education.

As Thomas said, "Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers." Through our years in school we have learned of wars, persecution, slavery and hatred. Love, goodness and truth have been expressed in our writings. Anger and dejection, electromagnetism and molecular motion have been the basis for experimentation. From Shakespeare to Voltaire we have received knowledge from the ages. But has this knowledge combined with our experience to give us lasting wisdom?

Living in a rural environment has enabled us to grow in peace and friendship. We've learned to respect the Earth from which "Life springs eternal." The prosperity of the community has given us a life free of most hardships. Compassionism from school activities and other organizations has broadened our social skills. In short our education both in and out of school has given us the wisdom to survive in what has been described a "hostile" world.

Although we feel we have worked extremely hard and think we were sometimes harried by our educators to perform unbelievable miracles no one but you our teachers, parents and friends should receive the credit for giving us the opportunity to make our first step into the world a full and healthy one. You gave us the chance to draw upon your knowledge and provided us the means for exploring the world. Through the spiritual community we have learned the virtues of a good life and have discovered many of its ideals that we should emulate. To you who have helped us so much we can only give an earnest, thank you.

In our journey through life our goals are as diverse as we are as individuals. Although we all will strive for excellence in our separate spheres of influence, we all can't be chairman of the board or a vice-president of marketing. The few of numbers simply prohibit having more chiefs than indians. The important thing to remember is that although your home is held up by a few all important beams the whole structure would collapse were it not for the thousands of bolts, nails and tasks that seem unimportant but actually are essential. No matter how long we're supposed to live in life we assume we should all remember that it contributes to the all important whole.

I would like to close with a few appropriate words from history and pray that this be a guiding light for us in establishing goodwill among men to the future. On March 1, 1865 a newly re-elected President Abraham Lincoln gave us this timeless desire for peace that is fitting today as it was then.

"With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in to bind up the nation's wounds; to care for him who shall have borne the burden and striven the battle; and for his widow, and for his orphan — to do all which may achieve and cherish a just, and a lasting peace, among ourselves, and with all nations."

Salutatory Speeches 1976

Graduation: they call it commencement; a beginning. But it is an ending too. The end of a beautiful time — and certainly an important time in our lives.

To me, it seems phenomenal that I am now standing here this evening. Looking back, I still remember a day when I was ten years old. My family made its home in Menlo Park, California, and my father came home from work that night and announced, "I've just been transferred to White Pigeon." Well, the first thing I did was to get out the road map to find out where White Pigeon was. But, after the initial shock wore off, I was left with the realization that, at the tender age of ten, I was going to be ten miles away from my home, friends, and classmates. But, little did I know, that in this distant town of White Pigeon, I would find some of my closest friends as well as some of the best times of my life.

When we arrived in White Pigeon, the heartbreak went away very quickly for I was too engrossed with the tasks of making new friends and trying to pass fifth grade to worry about the past. I eventually accomplished both tasks; I made lots of new friends and somehow I passed fifth grade.

Luckily, during the summer after my eighth grade year, I found my motivation and became a fairly good student. And I began to realize what was happening around me. I first rather blindly perceived what the future was all about. I set my sights on graduation, and here I am today, ready to take my first stumbling steps into the world.

Speaking for myself, and probably for all of my classmates, I'm glad it's over. But at the same time I'm thankful. Thankful for all the experiences, and especially thankful for all the help that I received from teachers and administrators and all those who have helped to make my secondary education complete. But I am thankful not only for the help that I received in the classroom, but the help with the many problems encountered outside of school, with those problems involved with the arduous task of growing up, and for every small kindness that was extended to me during my high school career.

With this year being our bicentennial year, it seems fitting to draw a comparison between the founders of this country, who started out with little more than an ideal, and the "Class of '76.'

Two hundred years ago, a group of men who 'dared to be different' and 'championed the right to be themselves,' felt that this right should belong to everyone, and proceeded to lay the foundations for the great institution that we now call The United States of America."

As we of the "Class of '76" step out into the world, we are lacking in the experience that can be gained only by living many years of life and suffering through many hardships, but we are not lacking in incentive and drive, the same incentive and drive that compelled our nation's founders to seek a better life for themselves.

Tonight, when we leave those protected halls to 'follow our own stars,' let us not forget all the good times we have had together, all the friends we have made, and most of all, let us not forget all those who have helped us through this most important part of our lives.

In conclusion, I would again like to thank everyone who helped to make this graduation ceremony a success, and I would especially like to thank every member of the "Class of '76" for his encouragement and friendship, and for making these past eight years the most memorable of my life. I would like to wish every one of you the best of luck as we set out to face the world.

Thank you.

To my fellow classmates —

Tonight is perhaps the highlight of our 12 years of schooling, there have been both bad and good times which I am sure we will all remember. Memories are great to have, but we must all begin to look ahead to the future. Probably some of you have recently been thinking, "What am I going to do with myself next year and all the years to come?" The term commencement means a "finishing." We are all going to begin a new life that will be more likely, more difficult then the one we have been living.

I sincerely hope each of you take into consideration your capabilities when making your choice of what to do with your future. If you are willing to put forth that extra effort you will have one advantage over everyone else. Don't expect to have everything handed to you on a silver platter. "Set your own pattern, then follow your own star." Remember to NOT let yourself get too involved with the problems of others and of the world. Also, don't become too dependent on others. "Champion the right to be yourself. Live your own life."

Be your own individual. Each of you are unique. Uniqueness is one quality you should all be happy to possess. "Dare to be different." Always do what you find pleasure in doing. Strive for happiness. Life is too short to let it simply pass by.

In short, "Champion the right to be yourself, dare to be different, set your own pattern, live your own life, and follow your own star."

In closing I would like to thank the teaching staff here at White Pigeon High School. Your efforts will always be appreciated.

Most important of all, is the many thanks the parents deserve. Without them, none of us would be here now. It is not always easy to say thank-you to our Moms and Dads, but we all do appreciate what you parents do for us.

My best wishes to all of the Class of '76.

TO THE SENIORS

We have enjoyed being your advisors the last two years, and we will miss your presence next year. We want to leave you with the following thoughts as you begin your journey from W.P.H.S.:

Travel lightly - you are not traveling for people to see you.
Travel expectantly - until the strings with an expectation of high adventure.
Travel slowly - take time to absorb the beauty and inspiration of every blade of grass, every mountain.
Travel hopefully - to travel hopefully is better than to arrive.
Travel humbly - visit people and places with reverence and respect for their traditions and ways of life.
Travel courteously - consideration for your fellow traveller and your hosts will smooth the way through the most difficult days.
Travel gratefully - show appreciation for the many things that are done for you.
Travel with an open mind - leave your prejudices at home.
Travel with curiosity - it is not how far you go but how deeply you go that mines the gold of experience.
Travel with imagination - "He who would bring home the wealth of the Indies must carry the wealth of the Indies in him.
Travel fearlessly - ban worry and timidity; the world and its people belong to you just as you belong to the world.
Travel relaxed - make up your mind to have a good time. Let go and let God.
Travel patiently - it takes time to understand others especially when there are barriers of language and custom; keep flexible and adaptable in all situations.
Travel with the spirit of a world citizen - you'll determine that people are basically the same the world around. Be an ambassador of good will to the people; treat others as you would have them treat you.

We wish you all success, happiness and a good life. And remember: By the grace of God you are what you are; glory in your selfhood, accept yourself, change what you wish, and go on from there.

If you could make one change for the improvement of the school, what would it be?

Mrs. Gordon

To each student, I would give the insight he will have gained as hindsight in the October following graduation.

Mr. Ward

Have a separation of the junior high school from the high school regarding program and faculty. Teachers would be assigned as full time junior high or senior high teachers. Included would be a person assigned (at least half time) as principal of the school.

1. My feeling is that White Pigeon could well offer a 6-7-8 grade middle school of 350 to 375 students with a full time administrator. Location should be at a site away from the elementary or senior high school (Montville) with facilities for home ec., shop, music, and phys. educ.

2. The present elementary schools would become K-3 grade schools and the senior high would be a 9-12 grade facility. Both schools are presently overcrowded; this change would put each of them at about rated capacity. We need to concentrate more on curriculum and teaching and less on discipline, classroom control, and housekeeping items as a school. The problem is that the first category of responsibility can be "put off" and delayed, while the second cannot be. Before you can get to the theoretical you must take care of the basics.

Mrs. Melchi

A marketable skill. Because a person goes to college, there is no guarantee that the person will graduate with a college degree. In fact, figures from the State of Michigan show only 18 of every 100 college students who begin college actually obtain a degree. Therefore, 82 of every 100 high school graduates (all who do not finish college) will need to have a skill upon graduation from high school. Even those who plan to graduate from college should have a marketable skill when they leave school, for as the figures show only 18 of 100 will complete college. This year approximately 15 students are enrolled in vocational occupational classes at White Pigeon - what are the other eighty-three 1976 graduates going to do for jobs? By giving each graduating senior a marketable skill, obtained through his or her high school study, not only would they be able to immediately enter the job market, but also they would enter at a higher level than the unskilled, unknowledgeable person and they would attain promotions at a much faster rate than those unskilled. The graduating seniors would also have obtained self-confidence in knowing that they have a skill they can always fall back on for employment.

Mrs. Benne

Tremendous growth in all aspects of girls sports.
Mr. Morris
One Major change, above all, would be a complete curriculum revision to implement a comprehensive CAREER EDUCATION PROGRAM K-12. Too many of our students are choosing the open door to the streets; even after graduation, many are totally unprepared and unskilled. A Comprehensive Career Education Program would provide the necessary skills and individual self-awareness for the work world. If it's possible to sum this up into one goal it would be: TO EDUCATE EVERY WHITE PIGEON HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATE TO THE EXTENT THAT HE OR SHE CAN PROVIDE:
1. food for their mouths
2. clothing for their backs
3. shelter

Mrs. Anderson
... Students who would use the library as a studying place during noon hours.

... Economic provisions to facilitate spontaneous programs for special students.

Mr. Evilsizer
(Who spends his every spare moment erasing the graffiti from school walls) - We imagine he would appreciate a student body with respect for public property.

Mrs. Leister

Mary Jo Stegplitz
... Mandatory empathy training for all teaching personnel at beginning of year.
... Everyone willing to do his share
... and a little bit more.

Mr. Jarad
... An increased feeling toward academic, or job related areas, by the student community.

TO THE CLASS OF 1976

In this world life can often be compared to a ticket for an airplane or a railroad trip. To be successful there must be a DESTINATION so that we do not become lost in this life. It is also necessary to have a TIME SCHEDULE which gives us the ability to become aware of the needs of this day, and of a tomorrow which is already ahead of schedule. Thirdly, we must face up to the ROUTE that we intend to take; we are free to choose one that is pleasant and provides joy and service to others, or we can go a bitter, rocky, and unpleasant road in this life. Down at the bottom of every ticket is the PRICE that must be paid. Good intentions will not suffice; in this life we must be willing to pay the price. It is necessary to transform information into understanding and be willing to carry out a good intention long after the mood in which it was made has left.

Best wishes to each of you as you complete your own ticket in life; with its destination, its time schedule, its route, and its price. In this year of the bicentennial, may you be motivated in a very special way. Remember, the hand of God is on the shoulder of this troubled world. Believe in yourself. Have faith.

Sincerely,
Kenneth Ward, Principal
DOIN' THEIR THING!
WHAT IS A JUNIOR?

1. "Being a Junior is like a sandwich. There is something above you and something below you. But it's great to know that you are in the middle, and being in the middle makes you the main and best part."

2. "Being a Junior is being able to ask a Cop for a donation."

3. "A Junior is a student who keeps the school together in athletics, student government, and does the work the seniors leave behind."

4. "The fact that I'm a junior means I'm right in the middle of things - not entirely inexperienced, but not quite ready to face the world."

5. "A junior is either a person in the 11th grade, or a male who has the same name as his father."

6. "Being a Junior is being able to relax between two trees!"
SUPERSTARS OF '77

The Juniors were a busy group this year starting out with the Junior Class Magazine Sale. Over all we did a good job, we finished with a total of $1,800.00. Jerri Bennett ended up the top salesman and Brenda Burton finished second. Jerri picked out a stereo and Brenda a volleyball and badminton set. We also had a Potluck Dinner and a dance, before and after the Mendon Basketball game. And of course we had the Junior-Senior Prom. "We May Never Pass This Way Again" was our theme. The Colors were pastel colors. Over all it was a very good year for the Juniors and we would like to thank the following people:

Mr. Stanton - sponsor
Mike Brewington - President
Joyce Rauguth - Vice President
Brenda Burton - Secretary
Jackie Starr - Treasurer

The Sophomore Class had a lot of spirit this year and had a variety of class projects to keep everyone involved. In the fall we earned over $100 raking leaves in the community. We also had a record hop after the Colon game. The most important event to most of us was ordering our class rings in November. To keep things moving during the winter we had our first large money raising project, "Little Darlings." We also continued our tradition of snack sales that we started as Freshmen.

In February we sponsored a dance featuring WSTR Disc Jockey Wayne Roberts. We will also have a car wash and continue our snack sales in the Spring. We would like to give special thanks to
