In Dedication

for "His" Dedication

Mr. Ted Krull, a full-time farmer and father, has been a school board member for fifteen years and has never "missed" a meeting.

Thanks Mr. Krull for your interest in us and how we are and were educated.

In Deepest Appreciation

We, the Yearbook staff dedicate the 1977-78 yearbook to a man who for seven years has taught us and guided us, hopefully, to a better way of life. This is just a small way to show our appreciation.

Thanks Mr. Morse and good luck in the next seven years.

Class History

By Roxane Logan

We started kindergarten at the ripe old age of five,
We didn't want to go but sooner or later we had to take the dive.
We were introduced to the alphabet, sharing and much more,
To playing quietly with our classmates and counting beyond four.

In the first grade we were inducted into working with simple math,
A few of us developed a lisp and were always coming in lath.
In second we started English and oh the pain began,
It wasn't ain't no more at all and again was again.

In third it was easier, we were nine and going strong,
We thought we had had all the hard things but boy were we all wrong.
For in fourth we went into long division using much paper, time and brain,
Only to find that many tougher things were ahead to drive us insane.

In fifth the girls started chasing and making eyes at the boys,
But they had yet to discover girls, one of life's many joys.
In sixth we were masters, the rulers of the land,
We threw our weight around and ruled with a heavy hand.

In seventh we went from rulers to the peasants of the year,
We were pushed and shoved around but we had no fear.
For the next year we got our revenge and oh how sweet it was,
We were eighth graders and the best reason for doing something was just 'cause.

In ninth we had algebra and so began our High School career,
We were to go through many hardships before we passed the year.
In tenth the rage was collections: bugs, leaves and girls,
The boys could finally drive and were giving the girls whirls upon whirls.

In eleventh the emphasis was on "whatcha gonna do?"
Some of us had made up our minds but they were only a few.
As seniors we are once again rulers, masters over all,
Some can't wait to get out and some are still having a ball.

But now, as we stand on the threshold of adulthood,
We all look back at the start.
And think of all the memories, keepsakes of the heart.
We can never recapture those moments but we can think back now and then,
Of the way we all were and how it all began.

Varsity Football

The 1977 version of the White Pigeon football team surpassed all that was expected of them, especially since it was supposed to be a rebuilding year. What rebuilding that had to be done must have been done over the summer because this team left no doubt about who was the best squad in the Kalamazoo area.

They left the league in awe as they swept past all six conference teams. They even left their mark in the central portion of Michigan, completely dominating the team from Grant. Even Constantine and Decatur, the teams that were to give the Chiefs their toughest competition, floundered in their wake. But, because of Michigan's complicated points system, White Pigeon was denied a spot in the playoffs because of their so-called "weak" schedule.

For only the fourth time in the school's history, the football team completed its season undefeated. This year, though, the team went nine games without a defeat while in the past it has been accomplished in just eight games.

The Chiefs again made the high point of their season the annual game with Constantine. This year's game was no battle at all as the Chiefs took the Tomahawk without a fight.

The awards flowed in as the Chief's football team closed their season. They won the conference championship outright, finished fourth in the Region I points standings, and were the #1 Class C team in the Kalamazoo area. The Chiefs also had three people mentioned on various all-state teams (Steve Niblock, Jeff Baechler, and Tony Cholometes) while they placed 12 players on the all-conference list (Bob Astling, Jeff Baechler, Bill Brorson, Jeff Cast, Tony Cholometes, Rick Hodgson, Tim Hostetler, Steve Niblock, Curt Powell and John Ward while Kevin Beckett and Bob Deisler received honorable mention.)

Although the volleyball records indicate differently, the teams recorded impressive wins and finished fine seasons.

The varsity team won five and lost four, but finished 5-2 in league play. Their league record was good enough for second place, and they backed up that position by finishing second in the league tournament.

The reserve team concluded their season with a 4-4 record, their best ever. Even though the team was young, they rarely showed it.

Freshman and JV Basketball

For those who feel our basketball dynasty is over, you will have to wait a few years. The JV team rolled to a 16-3 overall record and ripped the league apart, taking the title with an unblemished 13-0 mark. The freshmen completed an even more spectacular season, winning all 14 games they played. They defeated 11 league opponents on their way to their undefeated mark.

Varsity Basketball

1978 was a great and memorable year for White Pigeon's basketball team. Ending the season with a 21-2 record, the Chiefs beat Constantine twice enroute to an unblemished 13-0 league mark. They also defeated Class B Plainwell and Paw Paw, and Class C Decatur, Edwardsburg and Bloomingdale before bowing out of the state tournament with a heartbreaking 65-59 loss to the Buchanan Bucks. The Chiefs managed to sandwich 21 straight wins in between their two losses, the longest ever in White Pigeon history, and had many stellar individual performances this year. Steve Niblock shattered a handful of records, Fred Buck established himself as the toughest pivot-man in the south-west portion of the state, and sixth man Jeff Baechler became White Pigeon's own "Magic Man" during the course of the season. Although the Chiefs are losing four of their starting five, we can only say WAIT TILL NEXT YEAR!!

The Chiefs, riding an 18 game winning streak and ranked tenth in the A.P. poll and thirteenth in the U.P.I., entered the districts with tough competition awaiting them. White Pigeon's first game pitted them against Decatur, ranked one place behind them in the A.P. poll. Backed by Jeff Baechler's 31 points plus last minute heroics by Steve Niblock and John Deisler, the Chiefs pulled out a three point victory. White Pigeon then glided past Mattawan to win their second district title in three years.

The Chiefs traveled to Watervliet with the expectation of meeting Buchanan in the regional finals. This showed, as the Chiefs found themselves leading by only a few points over Bloomingdale at half. The second half proved different, though, as the Chiefs raced past Bloomingdale and set the stage for the Saturday night finals against Buchanan.

On that Saturday night, the Chiefs lived up to their ranking and to the delight of the fans, pulled five points ahead at half. Plagued by foul trouble, the lead diminished. At the end of the third quarter the Chiefs were two points behind and then watched the Bucks pull away, ending White Pigeon's greatest basketball season.

The Chiefs started out the year with great expectations, as they hoped to follow the league-leading exploits of the football and basketball teams. But alas, they were plagued by early season errors and a mid-season hitting slump. They won seven in a row before they lost in the Districts to Union City, and finished up with an 11-10 overall record, 7-7 in league competition.

Mike Tyree was the team's MVP, Ted Krull was the Most Improved Player, and Geno Berchiatti was presented the Coaches Award. Krull and Jeff Cast were named to the All-League team, while Tony Kistler and John Hiner were named Honorable Mentions, Hiner for the second consecutive year.

"Bogue" Engel, brother of Beef, crosses the plate with another Pigeon run.

Under the astute leadership of Reserve coach Verne Sawyer, the White Pigeon Junior Varsity squad has been the scourge of the league. Their record over the past three years is untouchable by any other J.V. team in the area, and most of the credit has to go to Sawyer who has put much time and effort into this team and its young participants.

Over the last three years, Coach Sawyer has seen five of his sophomores moved up to the varsity squad, the latest being Mike "Beef" Engel and the ubiquitous Danny Gest.

The Chief golf teams completed one of their most successful seasons this year. Both varsity and reserve squads won more matches than they ever had.

The varsity squad went with the young and the old this year. They were led by three seniors: Geno Berchiatti, Alan Kershner and Tim Saunders. Because of an injury to Saunders, though, the freshmen had to come through, namely Todd Bontrager and Tom Suplee. Eric Kistler was a fifth member of the squad and was one of the most consistent members of the team.

For the first time in Powderpuff history, the junior class overcame the senior's dominance (or the refs), prevailing 8-0. Friends to the End

Co-Valedictorians

Lynelle Girton

To the class of 1978, high school faculty, parents and guests:

Tonight is the end of thirteen years of education, an education meant to prepare us to go out in the world and pursue our goals in life.

Our class is made up of individuals with interests as diverse as Beethoven and the Beatles. Of course some of us are conformists who copy someone else's life style to gain acceptance and be one of the group.

Throughout history people who dared to have views that were considered revolutionary, blasphemous or just ridiculous were laughed at or shunned by society, some even died for their opinions, if these people hadn't believed in themselves enough to be a non-conformist we'd still think the world was flat and we'd probably still be under England's rule today.

I hope that as each of my classmates pursue their goals in life that they remember that they are at their best when they are themselves. Copying someone else's individuality will only produce a carbon copy and a distinct personality is lost.

People are often labeled as an egghead if they are too smart or an idiot if they are slow to learn or a dumb athlete if they excel in sports. Not only are the labeled people hurt but the "normal" people lose the opportunity of knowing a unique individual all because of a label.

Does anyone have the right to try to make a person like everybody else? The world would be awfully boring if everyone looked the same, had the same thoughts and liked the same things.

Perhaps Henry David Thoreau said it best: "If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music which he hears, however measured or far away."

Lynelle Girton
Co-Valedictorian, 1978

Randy Black

Fellow graduates, teachers, parents and guests: Welcome to the 1978 Graduation Exercises of White Pigeon High School,

As my fellow graduates sit here, I am sure that many things are going through their minds. Some are thinking of how great it is to be graduating and some are thinking how sad it is. But most of our minds are filled with memories. Memories of that big football game, that hilarious day in Mr. Stambaugh's class, or that big test of Mrs. Thompson's, which most of us actually studied for.

These memories are happy ones for some of us, sad ones for others. But, whether happy or sad, I would like to thank our teachers and all you parents for making them possible.

As I thank our teachers I would especially like to point out that without a strong foundation nothing can be built. When I speak of this foundation, I think of our elementary teachers. Some are retired, some are deceased, but we will never forget them.

They put up with us for seven years and taught us to read and write. Now they sit in relative obscurity, with no chance for getting a "Teacher of the Year" award. But I'm sure they realize their importance, and I would like to thank these teachers very much.

To the Junior and Senior High teachers, I would like to say that I feel you are in a unique position. Early in life, our education was built, but in high school it was shaped and given a direction. You will not immediately see the results of the education you gave us, but you will be able to see the type of persons we become as the years pass. For the most part, you have helped us greatly and we thank you.

I would like to thank my parents and grandparents, for they are the single most powerful force in my life, and without their love, I would never have made it here tonight.

And to my Fellow-graduates I would like to say two things. As you set your sights on the future, do not blur out the present. Live each day to its fullest because yesterday is a memory and tomorrow is but a dream. You can live only in the present. Treat everyone you meet with love and respect, and be not the aggressor, but the peacemaker, because blessed are the peacemakers, for they are the children of God.

Thank you.

Members of the Class of '78:

Life is filled with decisions. Up until now our decisions have all been cut and dried. We have gone to school at White Pigeon because we happened to live within its school district and we are here graduating today because we have been told that a high school diploma is essential in life. But now, after 17 or more years of security, we are crossing into darkness. The darkness of our unknown futures. We have a number of monumental decisions to make which no one else can make for us. The biggest of these decisions is: "What do I want to do with my life?"

I believe this is the basis of secondary education. In high school, we should obtain a certain amount of knowledge, ability, and judgment, and we should realize that when things don't go the way we would like them to go, it is best to try to work the problems out rather than to complain about them. After all, complaining and blaming only create more problems.

I feel that at White Pigeon, a person can get out of high school exactly how much he puts into it. If a student is self-motivated enough to work hard in the proper classes, he can be well prepared for college or for employment.

It is the high school's function to point us in the right directions in our "post-graduation darkness" toward goals which we have set. Needless to say, a goal is of utmost importance. A goal in life is as a "light at the end of the darkness." Life without a goal is life without a purpose. White Pigeon High School has commenced us toward our goals, but it is now up to us, the graduates of 1978, to pursue our goals. Don't be content with past achievements, but strive for future successes. As the Apostle Paul stated: "Forget what is behind you and do your best to reach what is ahead."

John Ward
Salutatorian 1978

As we, the class of '78, come to the close of our high school years and begin a new adventure into life, I hope we will remember all of our learning experiences.

For the past 13 years we have experienced many trials. Studying has increased our knowledge, the school atmosphere and its activities has developed our maturity. With these characteristics and many others, I feel we are ready to be on our own to handle the world as adults. Although it won't be easy at first, it's something that everyone must do in their life. Many will adapt easily to this different life style, while others may find it very difficult.

Whatever we choose as a lifetime occupation, whether it be a doctor, factory worker, or just a bum, we need to take the time to learn, to understand and to enjoy life.

There are many things ahead in life that we can choose to learn, but let's hope we won't limit ourselves to just a few. Many of the tools and necessary skills we will use must take a lot of time and understanding to actually learn. One very important point to remember is to enjoy life. Don't be satisfied with something that is not both fulfilling and rewarding. Remember it is our life. Take it what you want it to be, for you will be much happier in the years to follow.

As we travel our own way, remember we should be grateful to our parents, teachers, and friends for all they have contributed to our lives. Keeping in mind, if anything is to be done ahead of us, it is up to each one of us as individuals to see that it is accomplished.

Also the class of '78, would like to extend a special thanks to Mrs. Outman and Mr. Wells for a great job in sponsoring our class. Thank you.

- Joyce Anglemyer — I will to Chris Nihart my van, so he won't have to find one open in the parking lot to hide in. Also to Mr. Mort a six pack of Blue Ribbon to inhale after an extra rehearsal.
- Bob Astling — I will to Scott Copenhaver the ability to stay awake during Mr. Schneider's pre-game review "football."
- Cindy Bale — I, being of delapidated body and fermented mind will to anyone who has one or "both" parents working at school the ability to skip class, party and not get caught. To Scott "South-Side" Logan a box of Band-aids for when he comes to the "North-Side" to play with the big boys. And to Mrs. Outman, I will back all the food I stole out of Home Ec. while I was your assistant.
- Geno Berchiatti — I hereby solemnly and willfully unleash my ability to any insane athlete to truthfully write about his or her coach in the school newspaper.
- Betty Bottom — I will to one Penny Bell my ability to stay out of trouble and skip without getting caught.
- Pam Bryarly — I will to anyone with the capability, to sit through one hour with Mr. Bargwell. Also to my sister Paula — Good Luck during the next four years of High School!!
- Tony Cholometes — I will to Steve Dimos, my great ability to hang onto the football whenever out in the clear. And I also will to anybody who needs it, the ability to sleep in class with your eyes open.
- Bob Deisler — I, not sure of the state of my mind and body, will to Lori Knepp, Janee Rex and Jeanne Mallo my ability to spray people at Swiss Valley. Also to anybody who needs it, my ability to do things and get away with them except at the dunes the day after the Prom.
- John Deisler — I will to any person on the basketball team in the future the ability to get the shaft by the referees in the Region-als. Also I will my ability to wait for girls to ask me out, and never have anyone ask me.
- Dave DeMeyer — I will to Cindy Johnston my sense of humor and all my laughs and to look forward to the better days ahead.
- Lynda Drew — I, being of partially sound mind and body — after going to White Pigeon High School, will my first chair oboe seat to LeeAnne Hunter.
- Kellie Elias — I will my brother the ability to get along with teachers.
- Donna Gardner — I will my ability to out yell Mr. Blue to anyone who has the guts to do it!
- Lynell Girton — I will to Patti Lyons my finger splint which quarantees being excused from pep band and my ability to lose things in snow drifts and end up high and dry without them.
- LuAnn Graber — I will to any seventh grader my locker in the junior high hall to keep every year he is in high school.
- Deb Hershberger — I, being of intelligent mind and shapely body, bequeath to my sister Trina and her friend Rhonda Mathew, my ability to whisper, not talk in band. Also to the mat maids, I will the different responsibilities each will have. Last but not least, I leave my Contra Bass Clarinet to anyone having enough air to blow it.
- Linda Hershberger — I will to anyone the ability to chew gum in Mr. Martin's government class and almost never get caught. And also to any freshman my old locker that's been broken for four years.
- Hope Hiller — I will to whoever gets the job to have the patience, understanding and fun I had for four years helping Mr. Mort.
- Teena Hiller — I will to any girl who marries while still in school the "will power" I had to finsh. Running away only causes more problems. By using the strength of both school and your marriage it will be easy to get through it.
- John Hiner — Being of questionable mind and body, I hereby do bequeath my shyness to Craig Bakeman, my athletic abilities to Jeff Cast, my charming personality to Lisa Cholometes, my irresistibility to women to Jesse Salisbury, and to my favorite female junior, Steph Black, my inability to get into the NHS.
- Jeff Horrell — I will my part of the football and basketball bench to Moose. I hope he likes to sit down as much as I did. Good Luck to White Pigeon in the future to all sports.
- Mary Jackson — I will to Cheri Hurley, Darcy Royce, Lori Knepp and Bobby Brandys my ability to skip out of P.E. class and not get caught. And to Dana Royce a great senior year.
- Rick Kiefer — I, in the soundest mind I have, will to Kay Airgood and Mrs. Pfefferle and all the others foolish enough to invest into photography, all of the hassles that come along with it but have fun anyway.
- Kim Stuck Kopczynski — I, being of not so sound mind and skinny body, will to my sister Lynn my ability to make people laugh, and my black shoes. I will my bird face to Tammy Lamb to use as she sees fit and I will my not so great athletic ability to my baby sister Butch. To Steph Black I will my best facial feature, my nose. Last but not least I will my 1965 Dodge Dart to my best friend Joyce A.

- Karen Koscielny — I, being of no mind and body, hereby will the following: to my sister, Kathy, I will all the millions of dates I had in my senior year. Ha! I also will my nose and my piano stool legs to Mr. Jarrad to use as he wishes and to Mrs. Benne, the hundreds of miles I ran during the four years of track.
- Cara Lawson — To my little sister Gina I will a full bottle of whatever she wants, because she's always looking for one, two, three, four, . . . To Steve Niblock I will the ability to get nervous hives whenever he needs them. I will a haircut to Mr. Schneider. I will a nervous breakdown to Mr. Morse, because he's not going to be able to make it without me. And last but certainly needed the most I will this school a new roof and a decent heater!
- Roxane Logan — I, being of superior mind and body, hereby bequeath to my brother Scott my ability to get along with 98 percent of the teachers and the ability to let the other 2 percent "think" that you get along with them. Also, to Trina Hersberger and Rhonda Mathew, my dog bone from Mrs. Pfefferle.
- Deb Mills — I will to my sister Sherri and Beth Russell the ability to get out of this place faster than I did.
- Steve Niblock — I will my ability to officiate P.E. basketball to the referees at the Watervliet Regional, because I am better than all of them.
- Chris Pieronski — I do hereby bequeath my "high performance" 69 Heavy Chevy and my ability to race with guys in Vettes and win to Lori Moyer, and to Angie Clipfell, all my athletic ability in P.E.
- Dan Royce — I will my sisters the ability to stay out of trouble in high school and I will to the Class of 1979 to have as much fun as I did.
- Ellie Schott — I will my part in band to Trina Hersberger. I also will my ability to speak up for what I believe to any person who isn't afraid of what other people are going to think of them.
- Mike Schumacher — I will to Roxane Logan my great art of sharpening her pencil in government class, my dodge ball ability, to the rowdie seventh and eighth graders in first hour P.E. and the best of luck in the future to the class of '78." P.S. I will to White Pigeon the presence of me and my Honeywagon, the greatly needed service, when the pot don't flush.
- Shirley Schwartz — Instead of willing a possession or ability of mine to a following student or class, I would just like to use this space in the yearbook to say good-bye to all of my friends. But I hope this good-bye doesn't mean forever.
- Franklin Earl Seybert — I, being of sound mind and body, pass the following on to the football, wrestling and track teams: the understanding of the coaches' team goals and the giving of their best efforts to try to meet or exceed those team goals.
- Chuck Shaver — I, being of languorous body and eroded mind, give to Fred Buck my nickname "Javelin" willed to me by Steve Wagner on the condition that he will it to another deserving Midget. To Kent Bakeman I give my ability to get into a concert or game free. To Mr. Morse, Mr. Jarrad, Mr. Stambaugh, I give you back your sanity.
- Kristi Shoppell — I will to Kathy Koscielny my will power so she can use it to keep her hands off of C. B.
- Amy Sparrow — I will to my brother Tom and Sue Tastula my turns at watching for the boring bus and to my number one pest, I will to you my space at the register each morning.
- Sandra Studabaker — I bequeath to my sister Mary all of the black coffee she needs to stay awake when she takes chemistry.
- Debbie Taggart — I will to Laurie Gardner and Connie Groves all the dumb things I ever did in cheerleading. I sure don't want them.
- Cindy Thomas — I will my office of president of Pep Club to Anita Jackson and hope she has as much fun as I had. And I will my sisters and brothers to stay out of trouble and have as much fun as I had in high school.
- Lori Walls — I, being of sound mind and damaged body will to Lori Knepp, Darcy Royce and Cheri Hurley my ability to have a good time without getting busted; I also will to Dana Royce the very best senior year and happiness always. Party Down Class of '79. And to Bob Brandys the ability to get along with Mr. West, Mr. Schneider and Mr. Jarrad. Good Luck!
- Tami Wagner — I will the "hot seat" to Stick and Poots, my parking space to Theresa Schaeffer, my ability and common sense to obey all traffic laws and to drive 55 at all times, (also my perfect choice of a truck: a Ford) to Randy Arnett and Dean Boyer, an extra set of my car keys to Chris Nihart, and a happy senior year to Ma Topples, Mini, and Bumples!
- Randy Black — I will my ability to never study and still get good grades to Kevin Sullivan because he's smart enough to take it and dumb enough to need it, and a year's worth of fog and a smashed-up car to the Union Rod Club.
- Joni Buzz — I will my ability to come up with a different excuse every time I'm late or miss school to my cousin Lori McFall; she needs all the help she can get. And to my almost brother Jim Swinehart I will my comb because he always takes it anyway! Good Luck next year Seniors.
- Jim Perkins — I, being of sound mind but unwilling body, will any weight Wayne Ferguson needs to make the 98 lb. weight class and give my worn out Adidas to Chris Parker.
- Chris Mentor — I will to Mr. Siberry my cheerleading uniform so he can put up with the hassles. Also to Scott Copenhagen, I will my Mickey Mouse hat and my late car.

Summer

means different things to different people. Those in the office work during the summer, but in the nice, quiet, studentless atmosphere. And if they get their work done in the morning, they might even sneak in a round of golf . . .

After gadding about Canada, Mrs. Loyer gets to work.

Mrs. Watson still hasn't recovered from Mrs. Loyer being in Canada.

Comptroller Dick Duffield — that's with 2 "f's" even though 3 are better!

Mr. Ward, what is that putter doing in your office?

Custodians have a chance to work in peace, and the rooms actually stay clean more than overnight!

Dorothy Miller finds a lot of used gum.

Bob lifted the whole thing all by himself.

Jimmy, Come on, Get to work!

So does Bill.

Even the gym floor got a new look after being sanded.

Some prefer the sun, like Chris Diamond.

Mr. Siberry . . .
working on football already?

Some teachers work overtime.

Then there is the yearbook deadline . . . Thanks to all you staffers who let us down.

What's a Junior?

. . . smilin' face on the cover of the Rollin' Stone . . .

Farrah, eat your heart out!

"I'm sorry, but this course has been discontinued . . ."

Junior class stud.

Summer is an Empty School

Cleanest these lockers have been all year.

Even the teachers' room is empty. (Mr. Snook, is that your empty cup?)

The halls are filled with chairs and the sounds of floor cleaners rather than students.
