HOMECOMING '95

This year's Homecoming was a great success. Student Council worked long hours planning the festivities and came up with some new ideas to add to the old favorites. The Loden brothers donated an old lunker for the car smash. It was painted in Colon's colors with graffiti all over it. The car was demolished during lunch by a lot of hungry football players. Back by popular demand was the second annual ALL-DAY ASSEMBLY. Classes competed in activities such as: scavenger hunt, box races, balloon pop, name that teacher, and blind fold basketball. The theme of float competition was "FRIGHT NIGHT '95". The Seniors took first TARE AIM — Junior Chad Arnett lands a crushing blow to the door of the car, at the first annual car smash. Students paid a quarter a smash; by the time lunch was over both doors, the hood, and the trunk were ripped off the car.

SHOW YOUR STUFF — these tough Senior guys struggle to be number one in the tug of war competition against the Sophomores. It is important for these tough guys to show their might to the rest of the school. In the finals the Seniors weren't so lucky, the Juniors came back to win first place in the annual event.

SENIOR COURT — members of the '96 Homecoming Court stand for pictures during the half-time homecoming ceremony. Candidates are: Jeremy Ellis and Amanda Anglemyer, Troy Erb and April Okonlewski, King Jimmy Terui and Queen Kerri Woods, Alton Kline and Ann Kelly, and Matt Kanouse and Chrissy Markle.

THAT SILLY RABBIT — freshmen Heldi Parker, Courtney Hughes, and Raquel Zasadzinski carry their float entitled "Rabbit Head on a Silver Platter." They took second place in float competition.

BLOW — freshman Adam Sayler blows up a balloon with all his heart (and lungs) during the balloon pop competition. The Freshmen took first in this event: It proves they have the most hot air.

POWDER PUFF KICKS

The annual Powder Puff game was full of excitement. The Seniors, coached by Mr. Gary Shoppell took an early lead from the Juniors, coached by Mr. Ken Shau, with a spectacular touchdown run by senior Lindsey Mal-com two minutes into the game. Dur-ing the second quarter the Seniors ran a conversion play and scored a forty yard touchdown also ran by Lindsey Malcom. There was a lot of tough defense played in the third quarter, but the Juniors still got on the board with a touchdown run by junior Anne Puckett. The Seniors were too mighty for the Juniors and therefore defeated them 12-6. Senior referee Matt Kanouse was interviewed after the game, "the girls were a little rough; pulling hair, choking, and biting, but nothing too life threatening. It's a great way to start Homecoming week and roughen up the Juniors a little bit." Who will win the bragging rights for next year? Probably the team with Mr. Shoppell as their leader. In the five years of Powder Puff rebirth he is undefeated, with a little help from the girls.

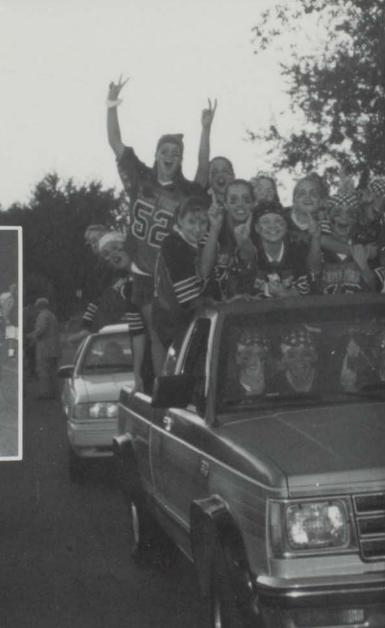

FIRED UP — seniors Amanda Anglemyer and Chrissy Markle show their excitement after the Seniors score their second touchdown, putting them ahead 12-0.

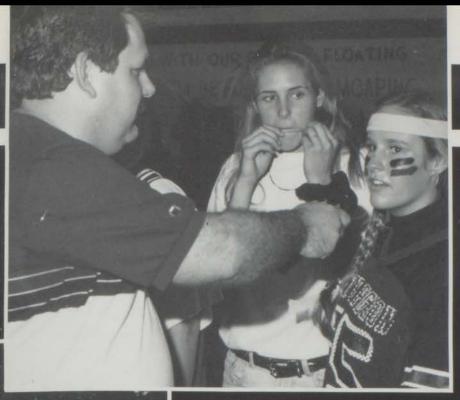

CELEBRATING — the senior girls enjoy their crushing victory after the annual Powder Puff game. When the Seniors were asked, What are you going to do now?" They replied, "We're going to Pizza Hut!"

DOMINATION — the senior girls, with faces painted and dew rags in place, chant, "we're #1," as they enter the field confidently.

YOUR NAME IS — during Friday's all day assembly, Senior Powder Puff Coach Gary Shoppell interviews junior powder puffer Livia Snyder to see how she felt about the Juniors devastating loss to the Seniors on Wednesday Night.

WE'RE READY — the Juniors show their enthusiasm while riding around town. They thought they had what it took to beat the Seniors this year, but they had another thing coming.

SENIOR BEAUTIES — cheerleaders Nathan Crofoot, Jeremy Stabler, and Heath Musoloff show their abilities by attempting a massive human pyramid during the game.

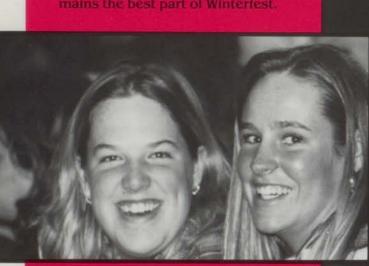

BEFORE — junior Sarah Dygulski appears excited and confident on her way to the game; however, her smile faded when the game began.

WINTERFEST '96,500

Winterfest '96 was a terrific success. The Toy Story theme added a child-like touch to the week of activities. Though the competition was fierce, the Student Council Academic Center won the battle. Everyone had a great time at the afternoon pep assembly: Mr. Shoppell did a spectacular Job as the M.C. The most anticipated event, the Lip Sync, was not disappointing. Alter-Idem, the live rock band, won 1st place, Basketball Jones slam-dunked his way into 2nd place finish. The Winterfest royalty was crowned in the evening. Seniors Andrew Loden and Lindsey Malcom cess. After the Chiefs skinned the Magi on the basketball court, the studance. Winterfest activities vary from ment while participating always re-

TAKE YOUR PLACE—sophomore Band representatives Emilio Zapata and Hope Witmer anxiously await the announcement of the 1996 Winterfest Prince and Princess.

GROOVY GROUP — juniors Tammy Schumacher and Livia Snyder show off their bright smiles after watching the Sunshine Day performance at the Lip Sync.

ROYALTY — senior NHS representative Andrew Loden and senior YIG representative Lindsey Malcom, are growned Winterfest Prince and Princess. All the clubs have candidates that compete for the honor.

SPINNING COLORS — freshman Jenna Tawrnier and junior Tammy Hahn show off their twirling talents during the Winterfest pep assembly. Winter Guard was the new halftime entertainment for Varsity Boys Basketball.

OVER HERE — a group of enthusiastic guys overpower each other in attempt to catch basketballs thrown during the Winterfest Lip Sync. The crowd participation during Basketball Jones' lip sync helped them clench 2nd place.

ARE YOU O.K. — Juniors Susan West and Tim Loden act out the part of the clumsy Colon cheerleaders.

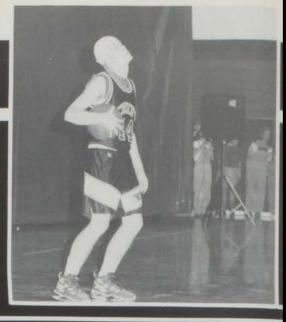

GO GO GO — Junior Roshan Patel gives junior Nick Hambright some words of encouragement in attempt to win the first ever car race event.

LIP SYNC Talents

The fifth annual Lip Sync contest was as exciting as ever. There were not as many acts as in past years, but the show was not lacking in talent or crowd-pleasing skits. The participating students put a lot of effort and creativity into preparation and props. Also, there were no judges this year, instead it was decided by Student Council to let the student body choose the winner. After the first ever live band performance the group Alter Idem was chosen as the first place finisher, followed by Basketball Jones and Sunshine Day. Each year, students look forward to the Lip Sync contest as the main event of Winterfest.

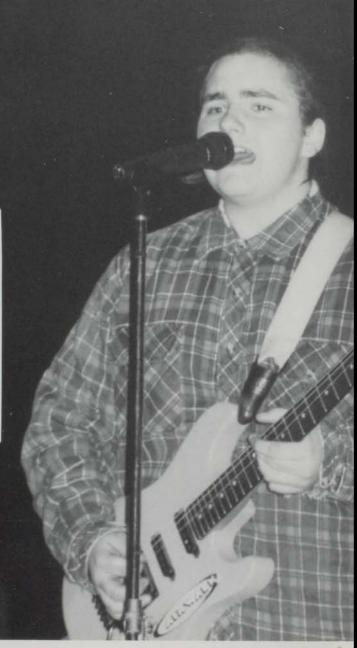

DREAM TEAM — The Loden brothers, Andy, Tim, and John, along with Mike Jitjaeng and Roshan Patel, made the crowd hysterical with their skit to "Basketball Jones".

"BAD BOYS" — seniors Khari Waltke, Stephanie Rudloff, and April Okoniewski impersonate the White Pigeon Police. They couldn't carry guns, but they made use of a ticket book and a box of doughnuts.

THE GROUP — Alter Idem bent the rules by actually singing the song "Breed". The student crowd didn't seem to mind as they jammed along and voted them the number one lip sync group.

"SUNSHINE DAY" — The Senior Bunch, Shantell Johnson, Ann Kelly, Lindsey Malcom, Betsy Webster, Kerri Woods, and Amy Hilgendorf, make their third entrance. The group choreographed their skit with constant movement and smiles.

FUTURE FAME — sophomores Chris Scamehorn and Cory McKay, along with freshman Leonard Bauder, experience an excellent jam session with all eyes on them. The group Alter Idem received a standing ovation for their performance.

ROCK 'N' ROLL — junior Roshan Patel plays the role of Jimmy Hendricks as he headbangs his wild wig to "Watch Tower".

WATCH OUT JAMES BOND — senior Beth Kelly, sophomore Hope Witmer, and seniors Lori Macias, Karen Kemp, and lead singer Tammy Elkins perform the song "Secret Agent Man".

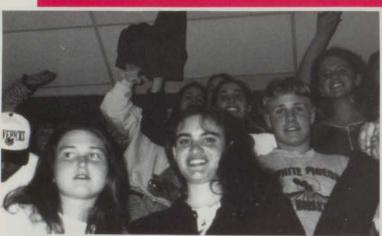

THE PALACE

Journey

The White Pigeon Chiefs traveled to the Palace of Auburn Hills on February 7th, 1996 in an SJV battle with the Constantine Falcons. The team left town with a police escort and a winning attitude. Four busloads of excited families, friends, and fans departed at eleven o'clock. The Chiefs scored off the opening tip and led the game going into halftime (20-18). The Chiefs suffered a drought in the fourth quarter scoring a total of two points. The Falcons struggled to overcome the distraught Chiefs in the final minutes with a score of 39-44. Following the game the players and fans went to dinner. The buses then returned to the Palace to watch an NBA matchup between the Detroit Pistons and the Orlando Magic. In a record setting game, with the Magic only scoring seven points in the final quarter, the hometown Pistons came out on top to upset the Magic (94-83).

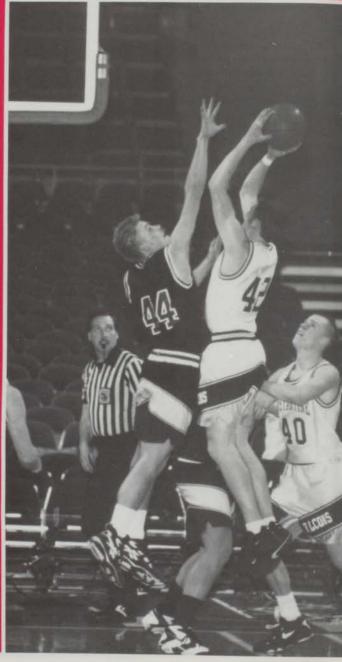

STARTING AT GUARD

between the Chiefs
and the Falcons.

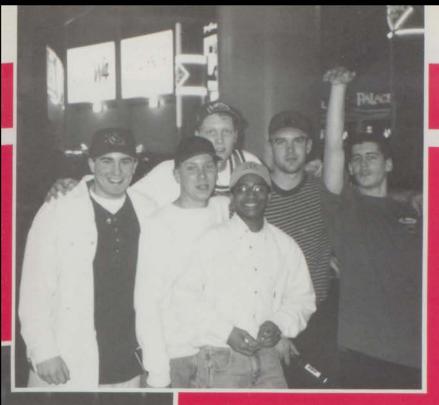

PISTON PRIDE — White Pigeon students show their spirit for the Detroit Pistons. All students were released early from school to travel to Auburn Hills.

REJECTION — senior Andy Loden gets up high to block an inside shot taken by a Constantine Falcon. The Chiefs played an intense first half but came up short in the contest.

PALS — seniors Charles Benton, Don Wagner, Chris Gordon, and Chris Block with Juniors Roshan Patel, and Nick Hambright take a minute before the Pistons game to lounge around the arena, checking out the souvenir shops and concessions.

SUPPORT — a crowd shot from the Palace floor shows the great spirit and true pride of the White Pigeon fans who traveled to Detroit to support the Varsity Basketball team. All of the fans had a great view of this game, unlike the Pistons game where they all had a great view of the rafters!

DID YOU SEE THAT — junior Ed Harrington and senior Chris Gordon cheer on the Chiefs with great enthusiasm and all their hearts; total support kept the team in the fight.

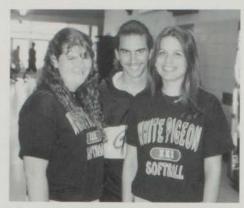

HOMETOWN ANNOUNCER — senior Denny Perry enjoys announcing the game for WLKM radio and the listeners back home. fils outstanding play by play kept the listeners tuned in.

Having your picture taken can be a reminder of one of the best or worst days of your life. Some people spend hours in preparation and some get out of bed and go. Regardless of what you look like, picture day is just another memory in the book to talk about.

ACADEMICS

TAKING NOTES — paying attention in class.

The school year begins to blend together; 180 days of the same routine. Sitting through classes, waiting for bells to ring, hoping for lunch, and longing for 2:40 p.m. Through it all you've picked up enough information to have something to talk about.

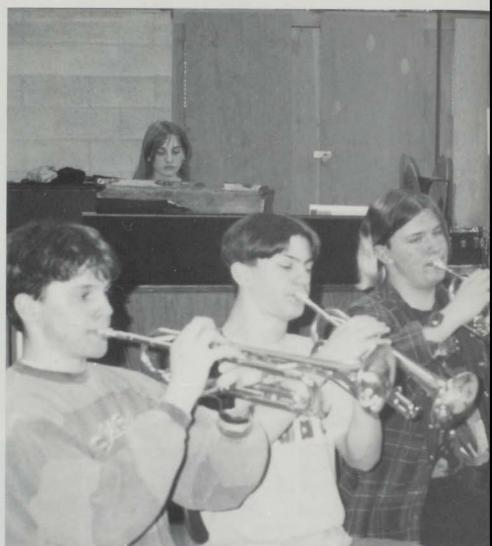

EXPERIMENTATION — going mad

CALCULATING WHIZ — mastering math problems.

TOE TAPPIN' —

REBUILDING

After twenty-four years under the direction of Head Coach Mary Schneider and Assistant Coach Pat West the Chiefs had a new leader. Coach Jon Keyer and the 1995 Varsity Football team had great expectations. The opening game against Niles-Brandywine didn't turn out as expected. The Chiefs lost and realized that winning wasn't going to come easy. The annual Tomahawk game was yet another heartbreaker, although the Chiefs gave it their all. And the fan's remained proud. The Chiefs overall record wasn't as successful as desired, but success is not always measured in wins and losses.

RESPECT

The Basketball program experienced a rebirth this year, having a new coach with fresh ideas. Coach Jeff Baechler had the team running a basic offense and when the team needed a quick two, he was famous for running a play called "FROHAM". Although there were ups and downs, there was a tremendous amount of progress made throughout the rebuilding season. "This was the best year I've seen at White Pigeon High School since my eighth grade year," stated senior Chris Gordon. The season was frustrating with nine games that were lost by five or fewer points. This made the team realize their true potential and pull together. The Players gave it their all every time they stepped on the court and gave the fans something to cheer about.

NEVER A DOUBT

The 1996 Volleyball team was one with an enormous amount of talent, dedication, and desire. There was never a moment of doubt while striving for their dream of a League Championship and a District title. The quest to fulfill their goal began with unstable confidence, but after top finishes at two large tournaments, the Lady Chiefs could not be restricted. After accomplishing their two main goals, the Chiefs advanced to the next level (a level that had not been reached for six years): Regionals. Despite all of the nerves and expectations, the Lady Chiefs performed very well. However, they fell a little short in the finals. FRESH START

The White Pigeon Varsity Wrestling team came back to life this year; the program had not been in competition since 1992. The nine wrestlers who completed the season were inexperienced, but their efforts were commendable. The team had a slow start while the wrestlers were getting used to competing against other schools, but gradually the team improved and ended their season winning three meets. Coach Dan White felt that the season was a great success; the team didn't get shut-out at any meet, and they lost some heartbreakers. This years track season was a time to start over. With a young team and new coaches, Mr. and Mrs. Hocevar, it was unsure which direction the Chiefs would head. The teams overall record was less than they had hoped for, but the few older and more experienced competitors shined through. Senior Troy Erb broke two school records in the shot put and the discus while he threw his way to qualify for State. The quick 400 meter relay team, consisting of Shawn Sharpe, Mike Jitjaeng, Corky Buscher, and Troy Erb, impressed everyone by taking first place at the League meet in Colon. WIN OR LOSE

Under the direction of first year Head Coach Tim Hemminger, the Varsity Baseball team had a rough and long anticipated season. After many cancellations and 4 losses, they took a close win from Michigan Lutheran. The following games kept similar format with scattered wins across the board. Although the victory column was not as full as desired, they continued to play hard and never gave up. The highlight of the season was defeating Constantine late in the season and defeating Marcellus in the last game of the regulation season. STUDENT LIFE

FRIENDSHIP — chumming in the hallway.

Student life plays an important part in your high school experience. Students have many chances to create special memories with events such as Homecoming, Winterfest, and the once in a lifetime Palace trip. Whether you participate in these activities or not, there was always something to talk about.

VROOM VROOM — competing in Winterfest activities.

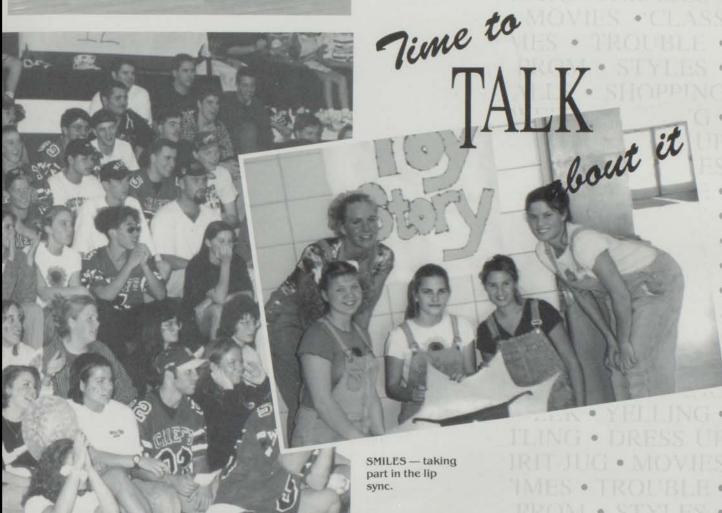

ENTHUSIASM — having fun at the Homecoming assembly.

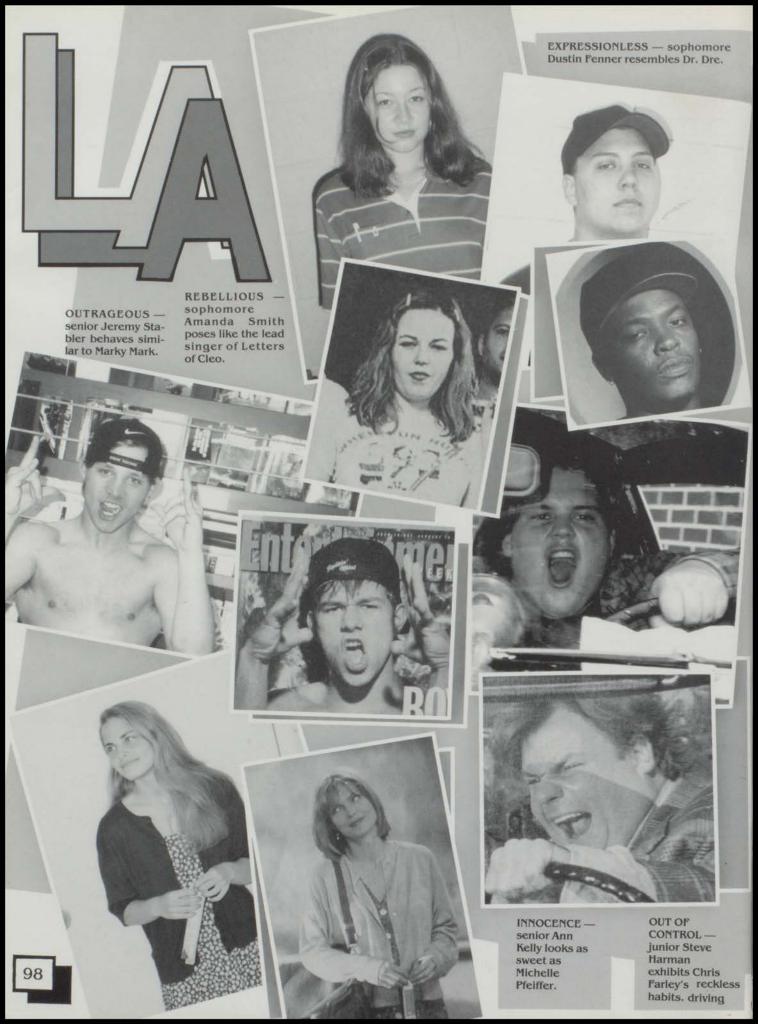

It was a fun year full of smiles and excitement!

HeadEditor AmyHilgendorf

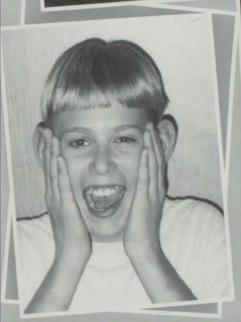

MILK DOES A BODY GOOD - sophomore Niki Parsons and junior Julie Lutz take advice from two stars from "Friends."

MIRROR IMAGE — junior Cassie Weaver shares exact facial features with Sharon Stone.

Of The go's

Everyone wants to be stylish and they all have their own unique fashion ideas. Most guys are into comfortable clothes and the girls want to look good, even if it means being a little uncomfortable. Grunge and alternative styles are in full affect. Frayed jeans, t-shirts, flannels, and Airwalk shoes are an everyday look. For girls, the 60's fashions are making a huge comeback with knee high boots, big heels, straight legged and bell-bottom jeans, and tons of wild color. Hair styles are uniformly tamed with the exception of some individuals. Whether students dress for fashion or comfort, White Pigeon High School is full of unique ideas of style.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME — these aren't ruby red slippers, but junior Olivia Snyder's silver sandies are just as noticeable as she clicks her way to style.

UNIQUE — Junior Alisha Nickel is stylin' in her own way with her silky shirt, short Jean skirt, and high lace up boots. Lookin' good girll

100

GRUNGE — Junior Stephanie Yoder comfortably studies in her thermal wear and her hip concert t-shirt from one of the hotest bands of the year.

YOU GO GIRL — junior Melissa Kemp shows off the new trendy fashion of clunky sandles along with her zipper front tee. Together they can make anyone look like they've stepped out of the pages of Vogue.

SHINING IN SILVER — freshman Amy Swinehart appears comfortable in her very popular satin shirt.

PROM Moonings

The Prom this year gave students many wonderful memories. It was held at the Goshen Holidome on May 11 from 8 o'clock until midnight. With the theme being Moonlight Madness, the Juniors surrounded the room with halographic decorations. Because of the lack of space, the Grand March was located in a nearby room at 9 o'clock. Later during the evening J.T. Terui and Lori Macias were voted the Prom King and Queen, following the crowning of Roshan Patel and Holly Stabler as the Prom Prince and Princess. Despite the low funds, the Juniors gave the Seniors a last dance to remember.

JUST FRIENDS — junior Amy Dodson and Jason Lauw, like many other couples, attend prom for the experience, not the romance.

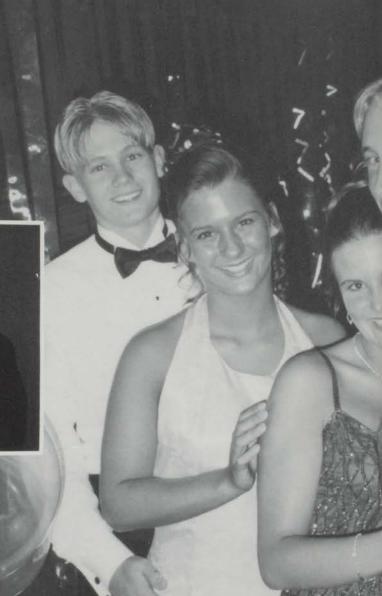

SURF'S UP DUDE — juniors Robin Baba and Carrie McClure aren't dressed for the beach, but they are dressed to kill.

DOUBLE TROUBLE — junior Nick Brandli, Freshman Jessica Burley, junior Jeremy Jackson, and freshman Rachael Duffin look like they are having the time of their life.

PEARLY WHITES — it is no wonder junior Roshan Patel was voted Prom Prince. No one can contend with that smile.

GRADUATION COOR

CONGRATULATIONS — senior Charlie Benton receives best wishes as he shakes hands with the school board members while walking across the stage.

ARE WE DONE YET — the Senior class diligently rehearses for Sunday's big event. Being at school after exams are over is not what these Seniors call celebrating.

BURNIN' DOWN THE HOUSE — the Seniors make a lasting impression by breaking the rules and holding lighters during the slide show.

PROCESSION — senior April Okoniewski happily strolls one last time through the gym.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

BROWSING — looking for interesting information.

Middle school is a new experience for many students. Changing classes, pep assemblies, and making new friends are small steps in the transition to high school. All of these changes and freedoms give the wing new things to talk about.

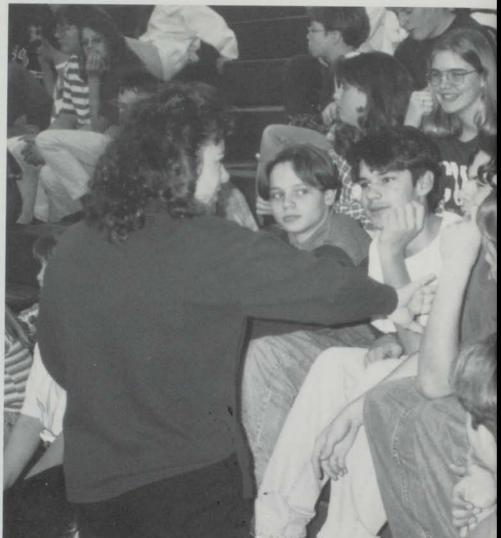

- driving the baseline.

MESSY — being creative with clay.

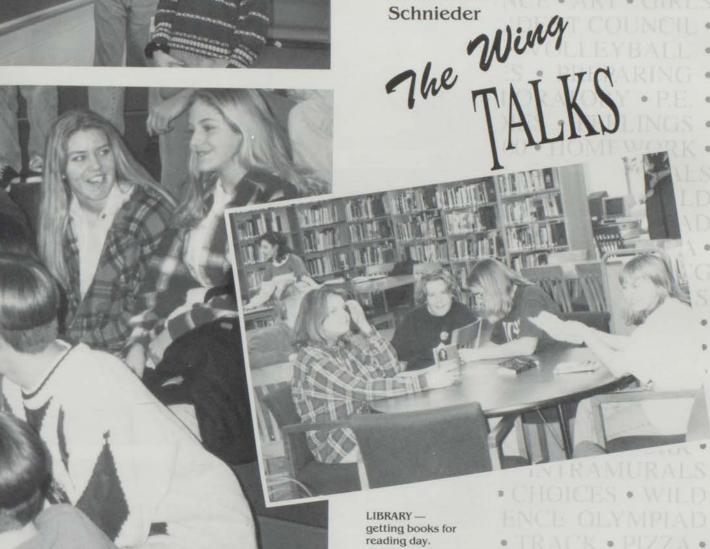

ASSEMBLY — getting together to make some noise.

GOOFNG OFF — making use of free time.

Being the Mid-School dle Principal is a new experience I joyed.

CAPTURING THE MEMORIES

top MARSHA, MARSHA, MARSHA — senior Chrissy Markle and Junior Cassie Weaver re-enact the Brady Bunch in a Yearbook preorder commercial.

bottom HARD AT WORK OR HARDLY WORKING — senior Matt Kanouse, junior Tim Loden, and senior Troy Erb fool Mrs. Karen Jarrad into thinking they've almost met their deadline.

High School is full of memories that none of us will ever forget. We tried to capture 1995-96 in a new, fun, and exciting way. Putting this yearbook together was by no means easy, but it was always interesting. We hope when you look back on this book and this year, the memories will give you Something to TALK about.
